"There he added, pointing to a pile of letters lying on his desk, "are a number of complaints which have come to the Society for the Suppression of Crime, regarding the existence of disorderly houses, gambling dens and such like. Of course, the Society has been devoting itself mainly to the Lexow Committee business, but we have not yet lost sight of the fact that there are Grand Juries in New York, and that it is possible to obtain indictments. What we propose doing in that regard, however, I cannot say just now."

Mr. Muss spoke sgain of the Doherty matter and then proceeded to libustrate some of the methods by which it is possible the police collect blackmail.

"Suppose," he said, "that a Captain knows a man who is doing a little brokering business. He goes to him and tells him to invest it for him. He will tell the broker; I know nothing about these matters, but go shead and make all the money you can for me."

"Thon," continued Mr. Moss, "what is the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the matter with the ward man, or whoever collects the blackmail, going to the provide the search of the lookout at the private way were collects the blackmail, going to the provide the proceedings. It was stated at Mr. Goff's office that he would not be back for at least four weeks. When he left the city last night he refused to leave any address, saying he wanted absolute rest.

Lawyer Louis J. Grant is at New Haven, but he left word with his representative, Jacob Rouss, to tell inquirers that he was still acting as counsel for ex-Capt. Doherty, and that there never had been any quarrel between them.

"The Captain saw Mr. Grant on Tuesday night," Mr. Rouss said, "and the details of the appeal to the General Term were arranged. Just as soon as the papers are made out the Captain will come in here from Atlantic Highlands and swear to them. There is no doubt of his reinstatement."

The fire did not amount to much, but the clanging of bells, coupled with the shouts of the firemen, created a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood.

The fire started at 11.10 o'clock in the apartments of Rudolph Stefmus, who lived on the top floor. Mr. Stelmus was preparing to retire when a lamp exploded, setting fire to the ayartments. A pedestrian on the opposite side of the street saw the flames, and ran to the house of engine 30, in Ellery street, and gave a still aiarm.

The men started to go to the fire. Just after leaving the engine-house the foreman sent a fireman back to ring an alarm. The man neglected to notify fire leadquarters that the engines were wanted at the Hopkins street house.

Postmaster James H. Cox and his clerks overhauled the office this morning, and the former says that so far as he is able to learn, the thieves secured about $1,000 in cash and stamps. He said the burglars were evidently well up in robbing post-offices, and knew that a large sum of money would be in the safe, as it is customary to make returns and deposits on the following day.
